

ST LOYE'S 75th FOUNDATION

Celebrate our 75th Anniversary with us in 2012

*In 2012
St Loye's will be celebrating its 75th Anniversary!*

Founded in 1937 by Dame Georgiana Buller, her vision was to train injured service veterans with disabilities in a craft to enable them to find a job and financially support themselves and their families. Today, we are a national charity based in Exeter, continuing to provide tailored training and support for people with disabilities, learning difficulties and long term health conditions. Through the different projects and programmes on offer, we build upon people's strengths and ambitions to help them reach their maximum potential, irrespective of their natural abilities or setbacks in life. In particular, our 'Transitions' project which supports ex-service veterans on the road back to 'Civvy Street' echoes our founders beliefs.

Our '75th' aims are...

-  To encourage people to get involved and help us raise funds for St Loye's in general, or for our two specific chosen projects for 2012, 'Transitions' (support for ex-service Veterans) and 'Moving into work' (supporting people with Autism)
-  To increase awareness of the services, projects and activities we offer
-  To celebrate 75 years of helping people!

Our '75th' plans include...

-  Soft launching our 75th Anniversary in January, through all media platforms
-  '£75 for our 75th', 2012 Fundraising Campaign
-  A range of fundraising and celebratory events throughout the year culminating on December 1st 2012, St Loye's Day with a Cathedral Service, (specific event information attached)
-  Supporting our Paralympian Ambassadors in their bids for Paralympic Glory
-  Celebrating our patron: Her Majesty The Queen's Diamond Jubilee!

How you can get involved!

St Loye's 2012 Fundraising Campaign - £75 for our 75th

To mark St Loye's Foundation 75th year of providing invaluable services to people with disabilities or health conditions, we are running our £75 for our 75th campaign throughout 2012.

We are inviting people to help us by fundraising a minimum of £75 and there are many ways you can do this. You could either do something fun and challenging like a long distance run, or dance marathon! Or you could join us in celebrating our Patron, Her Majesty The Queens Diamond Jubilee by hosting a coffee morning at your home and inviting all your friends round, a great way to raise money and have fun! St Loye's is also celebrating their Anniversary in the same year as the 2012 Paralympics and Olympics, so to keep with this theme you could organise a mini sports day for family and friends.

As this is such a big year for us, we are aiming to raise as much money as possible, so whatever you decide to do, we would be more than grateful for your support. The monies raised can go towards either of our two specific projects for 2012, Transitions, (support for service veterans) and Moving into Work, (supporting people with learning disabilities and/or autism), or you can put it towards St Loye's in general.

St Loye's Jubilee Cream Tea

Friday 1st June 2012 - Celebrating our Patron the Queen's Jubilee, our 75th Anniversary and our fabulous fundraisers!

St Loye's Foundation is delighted to be hosting, in partnership with Princesshay in Exeter a Jubilee Cream Tea event in Princesshay Square, Princesshay, Exeter on Friday 1st June 2012.

St Loye's was founded in 1937 by Dame Georgiana Buller, today, we are a national charity based in Exeter, continuing to provide tailored training and support for people with disabilities, learning difficulties and long term health conditions assisting them on their journey to employment.

We have been fortunate enough to have had Her Majesty the Queen as our Patron since 1937 when she was Princess Elizabeth and it is a happy co-incidence that 2012 sees us celebrate our 75th Anniversary as she celebrates her Diamond Jubilee – what better excuse for a Cream Tea! With our year long £75 for St Loye's 75th fundraising campaign at its mid-way point, the Jubilee Cream Tea event will be an ideal opportunity for our fundraisers to share their stories with us and to inspire more people to join in!

Please join us! 11am – 3pm, Princesshay Square, Princesshay, Exeter.

St Loye's Day Service Exeter Cathedral

Saturday 1st December 2012 - Celebrating Exeter based charity; St Loye's Foundation
Patron: Her Majesty The Queen

St Loye's Foundation is delighted to be hosting an evening service at Exeter Cathedral on Saturday 1st December 2012. Significantly the one hour service will take place on St Loye's Day, commemorating our patron saint of metal workers and craftsmen.

The service will be a celebration of the charity's 75th Anniversary, our Patron's Diamond Jubilee and our paralympians hopeful success! St Loye's was founded in 1937 by Dame Georgiana Buller, her vision was to train injured ex-service veterans in a craft to enable them to find a job and financially support themselves and their families.

Today, we are a national charity based in Exeter, continuing to provide tailored training and support for people with disabilities, learning difficulties and long term health conditions. Through the different projects and programmes on offer, we build upon people's strengths and ambitions to help them reach their maximum potential, irrespective of their natural abilities or setbacks in life. In particular, our 'Transitions' project which supports ex-service veterans on the road back to 'Civvy Street' echoes our founders beliefs.

Intended invited guests would include the city's Lord and Lady Mayor, who will enjoy Christmas carols led by the Cathedral boy choristers and a performance by East Devon's only all-female barbershop choir, Renaissance Chorus. Our Paralympian Ambassadors from Team Bath will be guest speakers.

Prior to the service there will be a VIP Reception for 100 guests in The Chapter House of Exeter Cathedral and we invite our sponsors to join us for Champagne and canapés.

A commemorative St Loye's Day programme/ Order of Service will be produced for the congregation and press to take away and our sponsors are invited to include a complimentary advertisement if they wish.
